"ALLIES" LOSE ALL CONTESTS.

They Make Vigorous Fight, but Are Outnumbered.

Opponents of Taft Display Much Sorenness.

Action of National Committee Proved Unbiased.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, June 17.—Fourteen hours were given by the Credentials Committee of the Republican National Convention for the presentation of contests, but no change was made in the temporary roll of delegates and alternates. Full approval was given of the work of the National Committee, which had devoted eight days to the question.

The sun was beginning its downward course last evening when the members of the committee, fresh and vigorous, began their session at 2:45 p.m. When, after a continuous session, the labors of the committee were concluded at 4:45 o'clock this morning, the light in the east was beginning to signal the sunrise.

The committee looked decidedly different than when they entered upon their all-night meeting. Many of the members had not left the room throughout the session, and they exhibited marked signs of fatigue.

Mayor Charles A. Bookwater of Indianapolis, member of the Credentials Committee, as he left the room this morning, voiced the protest of men classed as anti-Taft supporters on the committee, and announced that a minority report would be made to the convention.

"The report submitted by the allies," said the Mayor, "was involving 110 seats had merit, but they were railroaded out of the hall without examination of the evidence in their support by the committee. The arguments were not listened to at all, and the Taft men adopted rules which absolutely excluded members of the committee from participating in the debate."

DISPLAY SORRENESS.

The dissatisfaction, which Mayor Bookwater felt with the procedure of the committee manifested itself the moment the meeting was called to order. Senator Charles W. Fulton of Oregon, having been elected chairman, seated 200 persons in the convention hall, and the members of the Credentials Committee. This was an argument in favor of limiting the debate, in other words, in favor of the committee's action, but in reply to Mr. Bookwater's comment, said: "Well, I suppose we will have to let the molasses run."

"Not molasses—vitriol," retorted Mr. Bookwater, sharply.

The colloquy between these two men is an illustration of the bitterness of feeling which was frequently shown by Taft and his opponents. The statement was made by Mr. Bookwater that the minority report would be signed by six of the committee, and that in all probability its adoption would be demanded by Senator Gilman and himself.

When the committee met and organized, Chairman Fulton was empowered to appoint a committee to draft rules to govern the procedure in handling the contests. The committee consisting of five members, Mr. Fassett being the chairman. A recess was taken while the rules were being drafted.

The subcommittee delayed so long in reporting that the anti-Taft members of the full committee conceived the idea that "gag" rules were being prepared. These reports spread to the contrasting delegations, which were anxious to be heard, and had the effect of arousing still more ill-feeling.

After an hour's wait the report of the subcommittee was submitted to the full committee, and it was adopted without discussion. Consequently, practically of the same rules that governed the National Committee in disposing of the contests. Among other things, it prohibited members of the committee from introducing debate, and in many other ways was designed to economize time.

IN ONE, TWO, THREE ORDER.

With the preliminaries out of the way, the Alabama contests were called. Twenty-two seats in the convention were involved. After a comparatively short time for arguments the committee sustained the action that had been taken by the National Committee in that case. A tie vote was had, however, showing that the men who were in the room when a division was had, the Taft forces were supported by thirty-one votes against seven. At no time during the long time of this session was another test of strength had, but members of the committee favorable to the "allies" said they were outnumbered four to one.

The action that was taken in case after case indicated that the estimate was not far from correct.

Sweping through the contests from Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and Texas, Taft's forces were seated without a break.

The contests from all other States had been withdrawn.

Before the session was half over, it again to every one that the "allies" would not succeed in overturning a single decision made by the National Committee.

When Fassett was reached Chairman Fulton invited the members of the party into the committee-room that they might listen to the argument made by Col. C. A. Lyon, National Committee man from Texas, a friend and frequent host of President Roosevelt. Col. Lyon is not a lawyer, but in a picturesque and forcible manner he advocated the cause of the Taft delegation involving the Texas seats, the whole State delegation.

He was opposed by Mr. Saenger of St. Louis. The result was the same, as in all of the preceding cases.

CASE OF "ALLIES" WEAK.

After the committee had adjourned, Chairman Fulton and Representative Fassett asserted the Texas delegation in every particular, and could not have been decided otherwise than as they were. Both of these gentlemen said that the charge that the National Committee was prevaricated in favor of Senator Taft had been contributed by the press, and that the committee had been fully vindicated. Mr. Fulton said he would Impertinence is Marked That Husband of President's Daughter Has to Call Mounted Officer—Witnesses Spectacular Demonstration in Convention Hall.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

CHICAGO, June 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Congressman "Nick" Longworth and his wife, the daughter of President Roosevelt, showed up at "Entrance K" at the convention hall, just after noon today, they were surrounded by a crowd of women. Some of them intruded themselves upon the daughter of the President so impertinently that the Congressman requested them to withdraw.

In the convention hall, Mrs. Longworth, seated with Mrs. Medill McCormick and her daughter, witnessed the extraordinary demonstration in honor of her father. One of the things she did after taking her seat was to remove her hat, which was a creation in blue and not nearly so large as those worn by the other women around her.

During the spectacular outbreak she was this once in a while at Senator Lodge. At one time, during the tumult, Senator Lodge waved his hand at her and she blew a kiss to him.

Then, when Mrs. Longworth started to leave the convention hall, she was surrounded by a crowd of women who followed her from the hall in droves. They pressed so closely to her that the Congressman signaled to a mounted policeman for help. The officer responded and made a lane through the crowd of women.

With two mounted men on either side, Mrs. Longworth and her party were escorted through an adjacent alley into Michigan avenue, where the McCormick residence was waiting.

The action that was taken in case after case indicated that the estimate was not far from correct.

Sweping through the contests from Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and Texas, Taft's forces were seated without a break.

Burke Resolution and Parsons Substitute Tabbed by Committee on Rules After Southern Upheld the Negro in Loyalty to Roosevelt.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO, June 17.—The effort to secure a reduced representation of delegates to the National Republican Convention again has failed.

By a vote of 24 to 17, the Committee on Rules today rejected the Burke resolution providing for such reduction and also rejected the similar vote, tabbed by the Parsons resolution.

Representative Burke and his sixteen supporters announced that they will file a minority report.

As on yesterday the main opposition came from the Southern States, Alabama, South Carolina and Maryland bitterly attacking the resolution. The delegations from those States took the side of their colleagues who spoke yesterday that a reduction in the representation would spoil the disruption of the Republican party.

They had the support of Gen. Powell Clayton, National Committeeman and delegate from Arkansas, who was mainly a proponent to curtail the representation and divide his raiment among certain states.

He argued that the negro was a factor in the party, but if he was cast to the outside, then the party was left to him but to make the best terms he can with those whom he had been assigned.

The Democratic party will take every negro vote it can get," he said, "and whenever the negroes commence to vote, the Democratic ticket, the Democratic party will count their votes.

Besides, he said, the proposition was illegal.

The report of the convention was adopted by the convention by a close vote, after a rather heated debate.

SPEAKER CANNON'S RELEGATION DECIDED AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaker Cannon has marked himself for relegation to the ranks in the next Congress, if Roosevelt, Taft and their supporters can bring it about.

This was decided by the President and Secretary at their conference at the White House. The Illinois Congressman has irritated the White House frequently by opposition to measures advocated by the President, but he has gone beyond toleration in his fight at Chicago, threatening the President's supremacy in the party.

It is intimated tonight in quarters close to Roosevelt and Taft that the overthrow of Cannon, if Taft is elected, will not be difficult; that a large element of the majority in the House has needed only a leader or substantial backing to elect another Speaker. Heretofore the White House has taken no stand against Cannon's election, but war was declared today.

CHICAGO, June 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Again today was the Republican National Convention favored with the finest kind of weather. It was not quite cool enough for top coats, and the strong breeze that blew from the southwest was just about enough to drive the flies away. The hottest hour of the day was between 6 and 7 o'clock this evening, and the temperature reached the maximum point of 31 deg. The minimum was 55, and the thermometer remained stationary at that point the greater part of the day. Middle West temperatures:

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DALLAS (Tex.) June 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Supreme Court today declared unconstitutional the law under which independent school districts have to be of the past three years been issuing bonds for school houses and school purposes. The decision invalidates $1,000,000 worth of school bonds held throughout the country.

time before the convention some of its best-known orators, including Burke of Pennsylvania, Gov. Wilson of Kentucky, the Veteran Kite of Ohio, Gov. Herrick of Michigan, Remmell of Arkansas, Buckingham of Illinois, Wadsworth of New York, Mudd of Maryland, ex-Gov. Wainwright of Louisiana and the negro orator from Georgia, Henry L. Johnson.

The resolution was finally defeated by the close vote of 506 against 471, a margin of votes in a total of 973, three delegations being absent. The change of a single state might have altered the entire result.

Although defeated, Mr. Burke said the result had shown a tremendous growth of sentiment in favor of this restricted representation, and that in his opinion the future success of the plan appeared beyond doubt.

The final details of the platform are being arranged by the Platform Committee tonight, and if accomplished, the convention will be equipped tomorrow to make its declaration of policy and proceed with the selection of candidates.

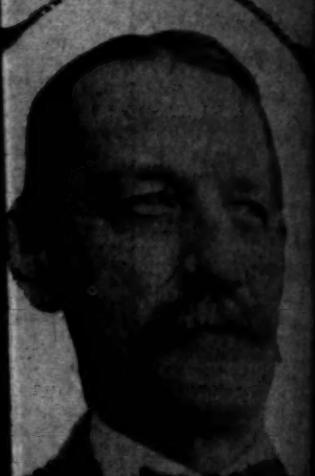

Tomorrow's session will open at 10 o'clock in the morning, so that a full day may be had for the discussion of principles and men. The platform is expected to go before the convention early in the day, and its adoption will be followed by the speeches placing in nomination the candidates for the Presidency.

HIS BAD EXPERIMENT.

Water Drinks Chloroform to See If It Will Put Him to Sleep and He May Die.

After swallowing the contents of a two-ounce bottle of chloroform to see what effect it would have upon him, William Wagner, a water employee at the Hotel Alvarado, became unconscious and was found in his room at No. 48 South Figueroa street shortly after daylight yesterday, by the landlady, Mrs. Green.

Wagner was removed to the Emergency Hospital, where it required several hours to revive him. He is at death's door because of the weakened condition of his heart, and attending physician Dr. C. C. Arthur said he offers but a small hope of his recovery.

Wagner's simple explanation that he wanted to see whether chloroform could put him to sleep is the only statement which he gave to anyone.

A notebook in his room showed that he kept a careful account of his earnings. These earnings often amounted to $50 a day. He lived well within his means, but had a good time.

There were no pictures or notes about the room to suggest a love affair, but the statement made by Wagner regarding his dangerous experiments was accepted as genuine.

The only vessel which contained the chloroform, a ten-ounce bottle of alcohol, one-quarter empty, and a third bottle containing a mixture of chloroform and alcohol, were also found in the room, and it is thought Wagner might have intended trying the other liquids in case the first failed.

In resenting an insult offered the wife of his landlord, Charles Camp of No. 161 Diamond street was seriously wounded shortly after midnight Tuesday, by headloum, on East Vernon avenue.

Mr. C. E. Garner and his husband, with whom Camp boards, attended a party on Vernon, six blocks from Central avenue. During the evening a number of a gang of young men insulted Mr. Garner. His husband remained quiet, and a struggle ensued.

When the party ended, Garner, his wife and Camp and a young woman left the house. On the sidewalk three men with whom they had had trouble stopped them and refused the woman to leave him.

One man, however, and the other started to get in his buggy. The man became abusive and Camp interfered. He was jumped upon by the hoodlums, who beat him unmercifully and then threw him into a ribbed chair.

A great gash, the size of a half-moon, was cut on top his head almost scalping him, and another behind his right ear. His left hand was almost cut in two. At the Hospital Hospital surgeon took five stitches in the wounds and then sent Camp to his home. He is in a critical condition.

DEAD BY ACID.

Young Clerk in Produce Establishment Ends His Life by Swallowing Carbolic.

Crashed from the effects of drink, Roy H. Zaiser, a clerk employed by Zaiser Bros. produce dealers, committed suicide last evening at his rooms, No. 112 East Twenty-first street, by drinking carbolic acid.

Zaiser, who was but 23 years old and unmarried, had been drinking heavily. It is said he had returned to his boarding place about 6 o'clock, very much under the influence of liquor. He went at once to his rooms. Half an hour later, his room-mate, a young man, and opening open the door of Zaiser's room, discovered the young man writhing in agony upon the floor.

Help was summoned at once, but Zaiser, who was unconscious, was unable to speak. The young man was removed to the undertaking establishment of Helleman & Meyers on South Main street.

Zaiser came here from Burlington, Iowa, about two years ago. He once went to work for his uncle in the produce business, and bore a good reputation for steadiness. Lately he took to drinking heavily.

Alexander Improving.

J. B. Alexander, a solicitor for the Los Angeles Chamber of Mines, who was thought to have been fatally injured in a railway accident, is again and again improving. He is now completely recovering at the California Hospital. Alexander's left arm had been nearly torn off and he had many lacerations and bruises on his body, and probably internal injuries. His death would be a matter of only a few hours. Mrs. Alexander personally thanked the receiving Hospital surgeons yesterday for their attention to her husband.

Polytechnic Commencement.

The commencement events at the Polytechnic High School will begin with the production of "The Crisis" in the auditorium of the school on Monday night, by the senior class, with the probability of repeating the play on Tuesday night. The class-day exercises will be held on Wednesday evening in the school auditorium, where there will be songs, "Knock" and Boosey and the London Society will present pins to the 110 graduates. The commencement exercises will be held in the Temple Auditorium on Thursday night, and on Friday night the annual reception will be held in the Polytechnic High School building.

Ambulance Runaway.

Frightened at the sound of the siren born on an automobile, the horses attached to the Emergency Hospital ambulance bolted on Central avenue yesterday. While the driver and his assistant tugged at the reins, the horses went directly north, narrowly missing a collision with a First-street car. Just north of First street the driver turned the horses in and collected with a telegraph pole, and there will be songs, "Knock" and Boosey and the London Society will present pins to the 110 graduates. The commencement exercises will be held in the Temple Auditorium on Thursday night, and on Friday night the annual reception will be held in the Polytechnic High School building.
